MANY PROSTRATED BY HEAT IN CAMP

For general, the mount was almost perfectly gone through with. First Lieutenant Nelson E. Higelow, of Company E, of Honesdale, was officer of the guard, having been selected because his company is the only one in the state that ever secured a mark of 100 for guard mount.

Bauer's band played the reveille this morning for the first time since they have been in camp. They were to have played it on Monday morning, but failed to arouse from their slumbers in time. Extra tents were accordingly erected on "non-com" row and the members of the band were all assigned to them, so that they could all be awakened in time. They were aroused by the guard patrolling just behind them and at 5.25 o'clock, twenty-six sore, disgusted men could be seen in front of headquarters drooping like the weevil.

"I think I can see twenty-six hard men resigning next Monday when we get home," said Adjutant Davis today, but a band man standing by said that the band men would be perfectly satisfied if they could only sleep until 8 o'clock.

RAIN DID NOT COME.

The weather still continues very hot, the thermometer this morning registering 95 in the shade, with only a wee little bit of wind stirring. There were prospects of a rain storm last night, when dark, ugly-looking clouds gathered in the sky. The wind came up very suddenly and a rush was made to baton down tents and make all things tight. The band concert in front of regimental headquarters was cut short and preparations for a big storm were made all over the camp.

FIRST BRIGADE INSPECTED.

Underwent the Dreaded Ordeal in the Pierce Heat.

By Associated Press.
Mt. Gretna, Pa., Aug. 7.—Under a broiling sun and with the mercury hovering in uncomfortable proximity to the century mark, the soldiers composing the First brigade of the Pennsylvania National Guard were today compelled to submit to the critical scrutiny of the inspection officers.

There was not a suggestion of a breeze to give relief to the well-nigh wilted militiamen. The inspecting party consisted of Colonel Frank C. Ewery, inspector general; Colonel Ezra H. Ripple, assistant adjutant general; Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart; Major Hurbank, of the regular army; and Colonel Frank K. Patterson.

The first regiment was the first to pass through the ordeal. The regiment was first inspected in battalions, then in companies, and finally came the individual inspection.

While the inspection of the First regiment was in progress, Governor Stone and a few of his staff, and Major General Miller, with only an orderly in attendance, rode up and joined the inspection officers. After about fifteen minutes in the broiling sun, however, these dignitaries had enough of it, and joined the brigade officers in the shade of a big oak tree.

After the First came the Sixth, Second and Third regiments, in the order named. The officers and men expressed themselves as satisfied that they had earned a good rating, although not as high as might have been with a little more time for drill.

It was somewhat of a hardship to the brigade to have had the inspection come so soon after the opening of the camp. Fully 50 per cent. of the brigade is made up of new men, and the companies have had few opportunities for drill. Many of the "rookies" were sadly unaccustomed to the matter of burining up the metal portions of their equipments, and the heat had made the gloves of the men a travesty upon the word which they were wearing.

While the inspection was in progress fully a score of soldiers were prostrated by the heat, but none of the cases are regarded as serious. Tomorrow regiments of the Second brigade will be out for inspection, and Thursday the Third brigade commands will be judged.

Grave apprehension exists among the members of the governor's staff regarding the condition of Colonel Thomas Potter, of Philadelphia, who became seriously ill last night. Colonel Potter is quartermaster general of the staff. His health has not been good for some time. Although his physician endeavored to dissuade him from coming to camp, Colonel Potter decided to risk the trip.

The heat of yesterday affected him adversely, and Mrs. Potter, who accompanied him to camp, was not a good camp physician, who remained with the colonel all night. A special car was today sent here to take Colonel Potter to Atlantic City. His physician, Dr. Conrad Berens, was also notified to meet the car at Philadelphia and accompany him to Atlantic City. The car left here at 2.45 this afternoon. Colonel Potter has been afflicted with Bright's disease for years.

MT. GRETTA NOTES.

Preparations for the vaudeville entertainment to be given in the Chautauque auditorium on Thursday night, under the auspices of the Thirtieth are being gotten ready under way, and indications point to a very successful affair.

General Miller at division headquarters tomorrow night, and a large number of officers and men from the regiment will go down to listen to the music.

The orderly at headquarters today is Robert Kiple, of Company F. This is two days in succession that F has had a regimental orderly. Sergeant Walter M. Whitney, of Company E, Honesdale, is acting sergeant major of the Second battalion, and has been proffered the offer of the permanent appointment.

Corporal George Dolph and Private Dick Thomas, of Company I, spent today in Harrisburg. Night Clerk French, of the Jermyn, is the guest of Major Fulton for a few days.

Ninth Regiment Notes.

Company B, Wilkes-Barre, Captain James Clinton Kenny, has the largest number of men in the Ninth, fifty-nine men and three officers. Chief Charles Hill, of this company, is the only cook in camp who has the regulation army cook chevrons. Company B holds a large claim base on Wednesday night. This company has the only regular foot ball team in camp, captained by First Sergeant Fred A. Johnson, the noted right guard of the Wyoming assembly team.

The quartette of Company D, Wilkes-Barre, Birmingham, Jones, Woodruff and Stark, sang at Major General Miller's headquarters last night. For Lieutenant General Miller, Governor Stone and General Miller and guests. The boys are being complimented on every side.

Company L, of Wagoner, Ninth regiment, claims to have the best clog and cake walk dancer in the regiment. Private Frank Rooster, and in conjunction with Privates Stoker, Craig and Williams, who are musicians of great ability, he has challenged any dancer in any regiment, looking especially toward the Thirtieth.

Company K, of Wagoner, Ninth regiment, has an old army cook who knows how to cook his men. As each one of the boys chipped in for extra rations they do not miss "the way mother used to cook" as much as they might. There are a couple of crack baseball players in Company K and they furnish lots of amusement for the boys. Sergeant John and Corporal Ritter wield the Spanish instrument. They are frequently accompanied by Sergeant Hoskins, who has a fine voice.

This and That.
The old rolling mill of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company will resume operations Monday next, after an idleness of several weeks.

The old and abandoned Wyoming breaker, owned by the Lehigh Valley Coal company, located at Port Bowkirk, was entirely destroyed by fire this morning. It is not exactly known how the fire originated, but it is supposed by the officials that the large structure was set on fire by a spark from the stack of a passing engine. The loss is about $20,000.

Now that they are building fast freight engines which can be used if necessary, to haul express trains, what is needed is a whistle which can readily be changed from a shrill tone to a chime. When a freight engine is hauling a passenger train it is always desirable for various reasons to have a chime whistle, and with the ordinary arrangements for signaling by steam this cannot be accomplished without going to a great deal of trouble.
